

ABDUCTOR TRIO OF IOWANS WAS CAPTURED TODAY

Is Fugitive from Texas
Prison Farm: Admits
Murder in Flight

St. Joseph, Mo., June 15 —(AP)—Held prisoners for nearly 18 hours by an escaped Texas convict, three Iowa men were released here today and 15 minutes later the abductor was captured. Release of the three men, Elmer Schleuter, Davenport policeman; Al Schultz, Secretary-Treasurer of the Davenport Baseball Club, and Dr. W. H. Fitch, Walcott, veterinarian, ended a night of anxiety for their safety and terminated a widespread search for them by federal agents and possees.

The abductor was identified by police as Joe Palmer, 32, who with four other men escaped from the Eastham, Tex., prison farm last Feb. 16, after killing a guard. Palmer readily agreed to return to Iowa to face robbery and kidnap charges in connection with the abduction of the three men, saying:

"If they take me back to Texas, they'll strangle me."

He explained that by "strangle" he meant the electric chair. Explains Kidnaping Palmer explained he kidnaped the policeman because he feared the officer, halting him for questioning, would find the pistol he carried in his brief case, take him to headquarters, check his record and return him to Texas.

The three victims returned to their homes a few hours after they were released.

Schultz said he believed Palmer's motive for kidnaping the men was to escape identification. He noted the abductor was saying he wished to get to St. Joseph for he had "connections there."

The kidnaping of Schultz and Schleuter took place in front of the Western League baseball park in Davenport.

The policeman approached Palmer to question him. But Palmer drew a pistol from his pocket and forced the officer to stop. When Schultz approached in his motor car, Palmer forced the police man into it and ordered Schultz to drive.

Commandeered Coupe Palmer complained about the condition of the machine and near Walcott stopped Dr. Fitch and commandeered his coupe. He forced the officer into the rear compartment of the coupe and ordered Dr. Fitch and Schultz to take turns at driving.

"We zig-zagged here and there, and travelled all the time," said Schultz. "We must have gone at least 700 miles. Once Palmer stopped to buy himself a candy bar, but bought no food for us."

"Palmer never really got rough with us, in fact, we gave him no reason to."

"The doctor made a hit with him—but he didn't like me because I was a friend of the policeman—and he said he hated cops."

"He and the doctor talked about the medical profession and got real chummy on the subject."

When the kidnaper and his victims arrived here, Palmer said he would let the three men have the motor car if they would promise to go back to Davenport. When Palmer started off walking, the men reported the kidnaping to police. About 15 minutes later the convict was taken prisoner.

Overlooked $300 The abductor robbed Dr. Fitch of $135, but overlooked a roll of $300 in bills which he carried. When the trio was released, Palmer handed the veterinarian $15 for expenses back to Walcott. Schultz was robbed of $63 and Schleuter of $1.

Palmer talked freely about himself after his arrest. Police Captain J. E. Kelley quoted him as saying he was the man who killed the guard in the break for liberty from the Texas prison farm, a crime for which Raymond Hamilton, one-time partner of the late Clyde Barrow, now faces the death penalty. Hamilton was convicted of murder last Wednesday. During his trial the defense sought to place the blame on Palmer.

The convict said the two pistols which he carried when he was arrested were smuggled to him at the prison farm by Barrow, who is credited with having engineered the dash for liberty.

Of the three prisoners, Patrolman Schleuter suffered most on the long ride. He said he nearly suffocated in the cramped rear compartment of the coupe. While the prisoners received no food during the drive, Palmer provided them cigars and cigarettes.

MATRICIDE HAS BEEN CHARGED AGAINST WOMAN

Former Illinois Woman Held in Casper, Wyoming

Casper, Wyo., June 15—(AP)—Mrs. Hazel Combs was held today on a charge of murder in connection with the mysterious slaying of her husband, S. S. Combs, former City Attorney of Casper, near his ranch 65 miles southwest of here Monday.

Sheriff John C. McPherson of Carbon county took Mrs. Combs into custody at the ranch after officers had questioned her at length. The woman, who married Combs in 1919, came here from Melville, Ill., near Alton.

The body of Combs, who had been slain by a gunshot, was found in his auto several miles from the ranchhouse Monday morning. He had left the house late Sunday evening to drive to a neighbor's to get a drink of beer, Mrs. Combs told authorities.

Sheriff McPherson reported he had found a pistol belonging to Combs in an outhouse near the ranch home, he said he intended to send the revolver to ballistic experts in Denver, along with a bullet removed from Combs' body, to obtain their opinion whether the bullet came from the firearm.

Sheriff McPherson said he had learned Mrs. Combs had been married three times before she became the wife of Combs, and that one former husband had died and the other two were separated from her by divorce.

PAIR OF UNITED STATES CONVICTS FLEE OFF ISLAND

Made a Sensational Dash for Liberty from Mc-
Neil Isle Prison

Tacoma, Wash., June 15—(AP)—Two prisoners from the McNeil island penitentiary were sought by armed posses today after a sensational four-mile dash for the mainland in a motorboat.

Throughout the night officials of the penitentiary, known as the "prison without walls," led guards through the woods of the Fort Lewis military reservation in search of the men, William L. Fitzmaurice, 34, San Francisco counterfeiter, and T. E. Audette, 32, Portland, Ore., automobile thief.

Working with boldness and unerring precision, Fitzmaurice and Audette broke through a barred door in the cell block and won their way into a tunnel leading to the prison's auditorium yesterday afternoon. From there, they made their way to the main prison yard. With no tower guards on duty, the desperate men cut their way through a wire gate.

Discovered, Fled Their activities were discovered, but they broke into a sharp run down a 300-yard incline to the prison's dock, as the prison alarm sounded.

Brandishing knives they overpowered the pilot of the motorboat hurled him onto the dock, and started the motor. Before other boats set out in pursuit they were more than two miles away on the four-mile race to the mainland.

Their escape recalled the sensational getaway 14 years ago of Roy Gardner, notorious railway mail bandit, who swam a mile to another island. Gardner was recaptured on the mainland.

ALLEGED TOUHY THUG, ARRESTED WITH GUN, FREE

Supreme Court Ordered
Jerry Ford Dismissed from Custody

Springfield, Ill., June 15—(AP)—The Supreme Court changed its practice today and handed down 35 decisions before the end of the term. Heretofore, the court has announced all of its decisions at the end of a term. Sometimes decisions handed down at the end of the term would number nearly one hundred.

It was decided to change this practice, handing down decisions at intervals during the term and the new procedure was instituted today.

Among the cases in which decisions were given today was one in which the court reversed the conviction of Jerry Ford, reputed Touhy gangster, who was sentenced to three months imprisonment and to pay a fine of $300 on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Ford was arrested in Chicago while police were rounding up members of the Touhy gang for questioning in connection with the kidnaping of Jacob Factor. The police found a weapon in his possession and later placed the charge of carrying concealed weapons against him and he was convicted.

Offense "Manifest" In its opinion today the court said that "it is manifest from the evidence that the plaintiff in error (Ford) was committing the offense of carrying a concealed weapon at the time of x x x his arrest. The officer, however, had neither knowledge nor information that the plaintiff in error had committed any criminal offense. The evidence disclosed he was arrested solely because he was reputed to be a member of a certain body of men suspected of being implicated in the kidnaping of Factor."

The court held that the discovery of the weapon after the arrest which was made without a warrant, cannot relate back to and operate as a justification for arrest. The court, having held the arrest of Ford was illegal, stated the trial court should have upheld the motion to suppress the evidence and reversed the case, setting Ford at liberty.

The court also held that Frank M. Carr should be returned to Wyoming to face a charge of forgery. Carr, arrested in Chicago in October, 1933, on extradition proceedings, contended the papers in the case were improperly drawn and sought a writ of habeas corpus which was refused by the Ogle county circuit court. He then brought the case to the Supreme court which today decided against him.

Amboy Youth Held
for Alleged Hold-up of Two Women

Chester Sweltzer, aged 16, of Amboy, was arrested yesterday afternoon and brought to the county jail at Dixon for his alleged participation in the holdup Wednesday night northwest of the Illinois Central depot in Amboy of Mrs. Anna Lightner and Mrs. Leon Barlow who were walking west on West Division street about 11 o'clock when a man accosted them as they stepped onto a small bridge and prevented them from passing. As the women attempted to pass, he was reported to have grabbed for their purses and failing to secure them, as the women screamed and ran, he hurled a bottle after them and then fled from the scene.

In the attempt to grab the purses of the two women, the youth dropped his hat which he left at the scene when he ran away after the cries of the two women attracted the attention of residents of that section, who rushed to their assistance.

DETROIT CHILD IS UNDISTURBED BY EXPERIENCE

Not Worried When She Missed Grandparents Here

Thirteen-year-old Ethel Thompson of Detroit, Mich. had an unusual experience here this morning as officials of Lee and Ogle counties were searching for her at the request of her mother, Mrs. C. H. Kappel of Detroit, who had placed her on a bus Wednesday evening, sending her, unaccompanied to the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lucien, who reside near Oregon, where she was to have spent her vacation. The little miss boarded a Dixon bound bus at Chicago last night, arriving here about 12:45 A. M. today.

Instead of leaving the bus at the station at the Chamber of Commerce building, she climbed out when it stopped at the Nachusa Tavern. Her grandparents were waiting for her at the bus station but when she did not appear they returned to their home.

The local police received a telephone call this morning from the mother of the girl at Detroit and about 10 o'clock, located her at the Tavern, where she was patiently awaiting the arrival of her grandparents. She was not disturbed by her long wait and went to the police station while Chief Van Bibber communicated with Sheriff Frank Murray to locate her relatives and informed the anxious mother at Detroit that her daughter was safe and well and would be delivered to her grandparents as soon as they could be located.

Mother's Alarm Brings About the Chicago, June 15—(AP)—A mother, alarmed by her son's sobs when he telephoned a request for ransom, brought about the arrest of two men as the kidnapers who had tortured him.

Mrs. Rose Welch of Toledo, O., promised her son, Harry, last night that she would send $2,000 to free him, but instead Chicago police were notified of the address where the ransom was to be left. A police squad seized Harry Seigel and Harry Sway at the house, Welch, 32, meanwhile had escaped from a third member of the gang who took him to a restaurant while the others awaited the $2,000. The wealthy head of a clothing company shouted to a passing policeman and his guard fled.

Identifying both prisoners, Welch said they had threatened him with a machine gun, and when he refused their demands for money, burned him with a hot hammer head on the chest, feet and face.

Four others were held for questioning.

Paul Spotts, 21, Fatally Hurt; Death Car Was Not Stopped

Paul Spotts, colored, aged 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Spotts, 506 Van Buren avenue, this city, was almost instantly killed this morning shortly after 1 o'clock when he was struck by the driver of an east-bound "hit and run" car west of Prairieville on the Lincoln Highway, while walking toward Dixon. The victim of the hit and run driver numbered the fourth accidental death in Lee county within a week, three of which were attributed to automobile accidents.

The victim sustained a "fracture of the skull, a broken neck and a compound fracture of the left leg, his death being almost instantaneous. Dr. Herbert M. Jacobs and Harold Grieb of Sterling were driving west and the east-bound car was passing them when they heard the thud. The Sterling men stopped within short distance and returned to the scene, finding the boy's body lying about four feet from the south side of the paving. He was unconscious and died within a short time.

Saw Man on Pavement At the coroner's inquest conducted at 10 o'clock this morning at the Preston mortuary, Mr. Grieb testified that he was driving west with Dr. Jacobs as his passenger, and that they observed a man walking on the paving. As the east-bound car came abreast of the Grieb machine, he heard a thud. The driver of the east-bound car, in the opinion of the witness, attempted to prevent striking the pedestrian as it crowded the Sterling car as they passed.

Dr. Jacobs testified that he heard the thud and returning to the scene found the body lying about four feet from the south side of the paving. He examined the body and found that Spotts had sustained a skull fracture, a broken neck and compound fracture of the left leg. Going to a farm house, he telephoned the Dixon police station, then returned to the scene and waited the arrival of Sheriff Fred Richardson and State Highway Officer Edward Mahan. Upon their arrival an ambulance was summoned but the victim had expired and the body was removed to the Preston mortuary.

Inquest This Morn The verdict of the jury was to the effect that Spotts met his death from injuries sustained when struck by a car, the driver of which is unknown, his death being almost instantaneous and taking place about 1:30 this morning.

Sheriff Richardson stated to the jury that he found particles of a head light lens on the paving at the scene of the accident, and on one of these was the word Chevrolet, which indicated that it was that make of car which struck the Dixon man. Both of the Sterling men testified that the car was travelling at a high rate of speed, but they did not observe the make, other than it was a small sedan type, and they could not ascertain the number of occupants, but both stated that the driver did not stop. Members of the victim's family stated that Paul left home last evening about 8:30 to go to Sterling and they were of the opinion that he had missed both the east-bound train and bus and was walking home at the early morning hour.

Paul Lawrence Spotts was born in Dixon, June 5, 1913, and had lived in this city all his life. He is survived by his parents, four brothers, William, Felchner, Ray and Edward and two sisters, Mrs. Frank Richards and Mrs. Lela Alexander, all of Dixon.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Preston chapel Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with interment in Oakwood.

CHIEF OF LABOR FEDERATION HAS PLAN FOR PEACE

Presents Plea Before
Steel Workers at Their Meeting

BULLETIN Washington, June 15—(AP)—President Roosevelt and congressional leaders neared an understanding today on a labor board measure which the Chief Executive wants enacted this session.

Pittsburgh, June 15—(AP)—Pleading in "all good faith" for peace in the strike threatened steel industry, William Green today proposed presidential appointment of a board of arbitration to handle all collective bargaining disputes.

The president of the American Federation of Labor offered what he termed a "counter proposal" to the revised Wagner labor control bill submitted to the industry by President Roosevelt in a move to avert the strike.

The gist of Green's plan was contained in four points:

1.—An impartial board of three, appointed by the President, to adjust all violations of code; to mediate and conciliate any dispute; to offer its services as arbitrator, and with authority to determine any matter of discrimination or discharge of any employee.

2. Give the workers the right to organize freely, clothing the board with power to hold elections under its supervision.

3. All grievances or complaints to be referred to the board for final decision.

4. If accepted by all parties, the strike in the steel industry to be called off.

Will Be Studied President Michael P. Tighe of the steel workers union announced later he would propose to the convention that Green's plan be submitted to a committee for study, and a report be returned to the floor.

He added that unless there is a night session of the convention, it appeared unlikely the delegates will be able to complete their business and adjourn today.

Green's plan differed from the Roosevelt plan in several particulars, notably that the majority vote would prevail in collective bargaining elections by the employees.

Under the president's plan, which was approved by the street operators, the employees might be split into two or more factions.

Green yesterday termed the Washington plan "vague" and unsatisfactory.

SUBMIT CHANGES Washington, June 15—(AP)—Senate Republicans agreed today upon three changes in the new administration labor dispute bill and planned to submit them to Democratic leaders later in the day.

SPRIT OF PATRIOTISM A PATRIOTIC CREED

(Edgar A. Guest.)

TO SERVE my country day by day
At my humble post I may;
O honor and respect her flag,
And keep in mind the debt I owe
To live the traits to which I brag;
To be American in deed
As well as in my printed creed.

To stand for truth and honest toil
To till my little patch of soil;
To serve in mind the debt I owe
To them who died that I might know
My country prosperous and free,
And passed this heritage to me.

I must always in trouble's hour
Be guided by the men in power;
For God and country I must live,
My best for God and country give;
No act of mine that men may scan
Must shame the name American.

To do my best and play my part,
American in mind and heart;
To raise the flag and bravely stand
To guard the glory of my land;
To be American in deed,
God grant me strength to keep my creed.

Newman-Wollaston Wedding Thursday at Christian Church

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock a simple, but beautiful June wedding took place at the First Christian church when Isabelle Mary Wollaston and Ralph Milton Newman were united in marriage. Rev. J. A. Barnett, pastor of the church, received the vows of the young people, in an impressive candle-light service, the ring ceremony being given.

The wedding was solemnized in the presence of relatives and friends. Pink roses, lilies and larkspur in graceful baskets made a floral background for the bridal group with tall pink lighted tapers flanking either side of the altar stairs.

Seats reserved for relatives were roped off with pink and white streamers. Friends were seated by the ushers who were Lyle Wade and Robert Mossholder.

Miss Helen McGonigle presided at the organ and played a program of nuptial music preceding the ceremony. As the bride procession entered the church Miss McGonigle played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin. The bride and her attendants were met at the altar by the bridegroom, Rev. Barnett, and the best man.

Kenneth Mossholder, cousin of the bride, attended Mr. Newman and the bridesmaid was Miss Edna Mossholder, also cousin of the bride.

The bride was lovely in her wedding gown of pale pink muslin de sole over pink silk with blue sash and slippers and carried a huge arm bouquet of pink roses, sweet peas and baby breath. Miss Mossholder was charming in orchid net over silk with accessories matching and carried pink roses and delphiniums. The bridegroom and best man wore the conventional blue.

Mr. and Mrs. Newman left immediately on a motor trip to Wisconsin and will return to their newly furnished home at 816 Jackson Ave.

Rees-Ely Nuptials Were Celebrated at Nachusa Yesterday

A very simple, yet beautiful wedding was that which was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in which the lives of Miss Leah Lillian Rees and Wallace E. Ely were united in wedlock. The Rev. P. H. Stahl, Supt. of the Nachusa home read the service, using the single ring ceremony.

The Stahl home had been artistically arranged with ferns, ivy and cut flowers. The young people were attended by Miss Mildred Brierton and Raymond Lair. The bride was attractive in a gown of blue crepe, trimmed with white lace, and she carried an arm bouquet of Johanna Hill roses and baby's breath. Miss Brierton wore rose crepe and carried pink roses and delphiniums. Both the bride and her attendant wore white hats. The gentlemen wore white trousers and dark coats.

After the ceremony and felicitations, the guests, who included only the immediate family and close friends, returned to the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Unger, where a light luncheon was served. The table was gay with tapers and June flowers, the centerpiece being of roses, larkspur and baby's breath, arranged in a mollelica dish that has served in the bride's family on similar occasions for several generations. In recognition of Flag Day, the nut cups were of a patriotic nature.

Mr. and Mrs. Ely left on the 5:00 o'clock train for a short honeymoon in Chicago. Upon their return, they will be at home at 913 Center Avenue, Dixon.

I KNOW SO MUCH ABOUT YOU

By Helen Welshimer

I KNOW so much about you—just the way
Your face lights up at something in a book;
The eagerness with which you help small boys
Sail paper boats, down-drifting on a brook.
I know you spend your stray coins foolishly
For hurdy-gurdy tunes and sweet, brief blooms
Street vendors sell. I can't forget the way
Your eyes have smiled at me across wide rooms.
A TIME or two when you've been hungry, too.
Because you gave too freely, that I know.
A sad you wore—a suit you never liked—
And how you walked so straight, head high, heart low.
And all these things have made me love you more
Than any feats that knights perform in war.

Many Women Listen to Lecture on Canning by Miss G. Henderson

The meeting room of the Illinois Northern Utilities building was filled Wednesday afternoon with county women interested in the art of canning fruits and vegetables. Miss Glenna Henderson, of the University of Illinois, gave an interesting lecture and demonstrated canning in both glass and tin containers; bringing to Lee County women reports of the latest research work, which is being carried on in the extension department of our State University.

We gather from her lecture, that much is yet to be learned in the art of canning foods, in order to retain their natural flavor and color. The packing of foods in as large portions as can be economically packed eliminates the loss of flavor due to many open edges. The up-to-date canner has dropped the terms "blanching" and "cold-packing" from her vocabulary and uses the words "pre-heating" and "hot-packing"; and adhering to the rigid rule of hot packing of all non-acid vegetables and realizing that blanching is not only unnecessary but provides a favorable condition under which the zealous little bacteria producing flat sour, works.

Gathering the vegetables, washing, cooling, pre-heating, and placing in jars is as short a time as possible, greatly eliminates the danger of spoilage and adds much to retaining the natural flavor and color.

Processing in the pressure cooker is fast becoming popular among housewives. Its use is urged by specialists as the best method of eliminating spoilage and the only safe way of preventing the appearance of that serious botulinus poisoning. This type of bacteria creates—when confined in a warm moist place—a waste material, which permeates the food with this poison but gives no detectable evidence of its presence. Deaths are reported from time to time as a result of botulinus poisoning obtained from home canned non-acid vegetables and meats.

A temperature of 38 degrees above that obtained in the hot-water bath processing method is necessary to destroy this bacteria and prevent the possibility of its serious work and this temperature can only be reached by the use of the pressure cooker. When the housewife is still using the hot-bath method, for non-acid vegetables and all meats, the following steps should be taken to prevent.

Those who heard Miss Fannie Brooks, health specialist, give her lecture at the Elks' building, will be pleased to learn that she has been asked to return for another open meeting this coming year.

The Illinois Northern Utilities Co. has manifested a wonderful cooperation and interest in the Home Bureau and their educational projects for the home maker. They have permitted the women to hold their local leader training schools which are conducted bi-monthly by the various specialists from the extension department of the University of Illinois, in their building and this kindness is greatly appreciated by both the University and members.

Shaw-Baylor Wedding Noted

Careful Grooming Matter of Detail

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

Careful grooming is a matter of detail. If you are fastidious about the little things, your struggle for charm and daintiness is half won. Make a head-to-foot survey of yourself and see if you measure up to these rules for meticulous grooming.

Hair should be not only clean but shining and glossy as well. Frequent shampoos and a daily brushing will keep it that way. Eyebrows should be tweezed and trained into smooth, even lines and the space between them must be free from hair. This does not mean that you have to pluck them until practically no hairs are left but only that they need a bit of attention now and then.

Arms and elbows should be white and smooth. Use a bath brush on them. If they persist in becoming discolored, try a bleaching lotion or a bit of lemon juice.

Hands, in addition to being scrupulously clean and very smooth must be white. Rub a lotion on them several times a day and if you do housework, wear rubber gloves to keep dust and dish water from ruining their appearance. Knees, particularly if you go in for bathing beach and active sports attire, must be smooth and white. Scrubbing with a brush will help. If it doesn't, try rubbing them gently with a bit of pumice stone. Legs should be free of superfluous hair and feet should be as well cared for.

Many friends join in extending congratulations to them on their wedding anniversary.

Simplest Coiffures Best for Blondes

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Service Staff Writer

The simplest coiffures are most flattering to blondes and the girl who comes under this heading should realize it and plan her hair style accordingly. Why bother with trying to keep too many waves in place when you look prettier without them?

As a matter of fact, there is a definite trend toward simple hair fashions for all of us this summer. Important coiffure experts are sponsoring neat buns on the neck or rows and rows of little curls across the back with the hair on the top of the head left unwaved and brushed straight back. And a good thing it is, since summer vacations are so close at hand and since no one likes to go to a lot of fuss and bother during the hot months.

Remember, though, that whether you're blonde, medium or dark, healthy, shiny locks are absolutely necessary to one of the new simple coiffures. You'll need to shampoo a little oftener during the summer when the air is filled with dust and you'll have to keep on with the daily brushing between shampoos. If you wash your own hair, be sure to rinse carefully, getting out every trace of soap. Then devise some method of keeping your coiffure neat, whether you're in town or country. One good idea is to go to a hairdresser and have him show you how the first time. After that, you'll be able to do it yourself.

Miss Jean Countryman is giving a luncheon bridge Thursday, June 21, at her home, 1805 Clinton street, Rockford, in honor of the bride-elect.

WE KNOW WHERE EVERYBODY STANDS.

Recent intergovernmental notes in regard to the British war debt owed the United States government clarified the atmosphere. Some criticism may be aimed at President Roosevelt on the theory that his recent debt message to congress angered the British and made them decide to plunge into the morass of default rather than continue their drop-in-the-bucket token payment. But the fact is that the situation was already headed for the conclusion it has reached.

The total amount owed by the various debtor countries equals about $93 for each man, woman and child in the United States. Through the long series of funding operations which our government must undertake to clear the debt, the figure will increase, depending largely upon interest rates and tax collections, which depend upon prosperity.

The $11,628,311,614.94 is not going to bankrupt the United States. By the same token it would not bankrupt Europe, either, so it leave Britain and her fellow deadbeats in the worse position. As long as history is written European credit will be under a cloud.

Statesmen of the Wilson and World war era were notoriously loose in their dealings with other nations and in their handling of the American people's money. The proverbial drunken sailor on shore leave was no more prodigal than they in the pouring out of the apparently inexhaustible store of credit without terms of agreement on repayment. We also spent a round billion dollars for American airplanes during the World War, and when the armistice was signed we had not a single airplane in action nor in France. We dumped money right and left for artillery, but the only American-owned guns in action on the eve of the armistice were three long-range pieces filched from Yankee battleships. We borrowed tanks, airplanes and mortars from debtor nations to fight our part of the war. We had some luck firing captured German artillery at the Germans. We wore out millions of dollars worth of American trucks and worked American soldiers building roads for the French. We improved their harbor facilities, and when it appeared that certain European groups were in danger of starvation, we sent them food and money. Private capital took up where government largess left off. We have seen American financiers and groups engaged in the good work of restoring cathedrals, schools and even whole towns that had been bombed.

Naturally, Europe took note of this generosity, and when we undertook funding negotiations with them, they beat us down. Twice they accomplished that feat in times of relative prosperity, and now that the world is plunged into depression they have defaulted. American generosity only whetted European cupidity. This youthful and wealthy nation has learned a lesson in dealing with its poor relations.

It would be impractical for us to attempt to use force of any sort to collect the debts. There is no international court not packed against us. To go to arms would cost many times the amount involved. To levy tribute, after a fashion, on vessels arriving at our ports would strangle us as well as them.

To the United States they owe their existence as nations, and nearly 12 billion dollars besides.

THAT INSANITY PLEA.

By demanding radical reforms in legal procedure in murder trials, the American Psychiatric Association has moved to end one of the most glaring deficiencies of America's law.

A report on the "insanity defense" was submitted to the nineteenth annual convention of the association recently, and it proposed several important changes. It would eliminate most of the obtrusive technical evidence which nowadays is submitted to a confused jury when a defendant asserts his own insanity, and it would provide that any man submitting such a plea be confined in an asylum for a indefinite period, whether he be found guilty or acquitted.

That the courts' way of handling the insanity defense needs thorough overhauling is to obvious to need argument. The psychiatrists, who have good reason to know how completely this kind of defense is abused under present practice, are to be commended for their effort to bring about a reform.

I have faith in brains, despite attacks on the brain trust and ribald mirth at the idea that brains should have a part in governing the country.—Dean Virginia Gildersleeve of Barnard College.

I sometimes think that one of our weaknesses is a craze for novel and radical ideas in government.—U. S. Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia.

Living Our Everyday Lives

MENTAL HEALTH

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

Are you mentally healthy? It may seem an odd question to ask, but all of us are a little upset these days and need to be careful.

The world is so queer, so tangled, so tense, that we may easily lose our balance, fly off the handle and do some strange or terrible thing.

My question does not imply that we are dumb, much less crazy, but merely whether we are normal in the midst of abnormal conditions. Many, as we know, have been shaken, if not shattered to pieces.

What do we mean by mental health? It has been defined as the ability to maintain emotional control, an alert and open mind, a socially considerate behavior, and a happy disposition, a sunny temper.

By such a test, how stands the case with you and me and the rest of us? Not many of us could pass the test. We may be healthy at times and in spots, but at other times we lose our poise and become ill.

Of course the crux of the definition is our ability to "maintain" mental health, in the midst of so many unhealthy infections and unwholesome suggestions. The air is bad and we are in danger of contagion, as we saw in the days when a panic fear gripped us with grim clutch.

The key to mental health lies in emotional control, and that is not easy to acquire or maintain. It means more than keeping our temper. It means the discipline of our feelings so that they will stand hit.

The extent to which we are able to master our moods marks the degree of our poise and our power.

Some are more emotionally unstable than others, and require a firmer hand. In life as in sport, if we lose our heads we lose the game by giving way to feelings that ought to be tethered.

Happily we know more about these things today than ever before and we must use all the help we can get. It takes practice to keep ourselves in line, but we can do it if we set about it in the right way.

It may not be done all at once or once for all, but our religion, if we have any, ought to help us greatly. It ought to give us a sense of being girded, guarded, guided by a wisdom greater than our own.

AGRANULOCYTOSIS

This compound term names a blood disease in which there is a drop in the number of white cells present and circulating in the blood. This disease is a very serious one.

The disease usually begins suddenly with high fever, chills and a general feeling of illness. Frequent ly there is found in the mouth or

To cute Jack Horner, Dotty said, "About you I have often read. I never thought however, you could do what you have done."

"I wonder if you'd let me try to pull a plum out of your pie. It is a real good trick, and I'll bet it is a lot of fun."

"There's no use trying," Jack replied. "There are no more fine plums inside. My mother put just one in, so that I could do my trick."

"This pie is full of apples, lads. That ought to make you feel real glad, because you are going to eat it. When it is gone, the pan I'll lick."

"Hurray!" cried Duncy. "Let's start now. I will very gladly show you how to get rid of a great big piece. It will not take me long."

Then Dotty said, "Each piece will be the same size. Gee, I can't see why you are always pigging when you know that it is so wrong."

The pie was cut by Goldy, and the Tinymites agreed it was very throat of the sufferer ulcerations of the mucous membranes with at times destruction of deeper tissues.

The disease may occur at any age, but shows a decided tendency to affect the female sex. At least 75 per cent of the cases known have occurred in women.

Usually there is no history of ill health preceding the attack, although it may develop during a chronic illness.

This disease was recognized and described a little more than 10 years ago. The exact cause of it was, and to some extent still remains, unknown. Recent studies, however, reveal that cases of agranulocytosis fall roughly into two groups, those that are apparently secondary to some infectious disease or follow the taking of certain drugs, and those called idiopathic because the cause still remains unknown.

Especial attention must be called to the cases of agranulocytosis which follow the taking of certain drugs. Evidently there are a number of chemical substances which are capable of injuring the bone marrow of susceptible persons. It is this injury which gives the clinical picture of a lowering in the numbers of white blood cells circulating in the blood since the origin of the white blood cells is in bone marrow.

Among the substances that can so injure the bone marrow are benzene and benzene derivatives. The drugs belonging to the so-called barbituric group (luminal, alonal, veronal, etc.) and which are now being widely used by the public in self-administered treatment for headaches, insomnia and other conditions as well as the drug known as anipyrin, are particularly charged with causing susceptible individuals to suffer severe injury to the bone marrow, resulting in agranulocytosis.

RETIRED CHAMP
PRAISES BAER:
PERFECT FIGHT

Gene Tunney Writes
of Fight for Associated Press

By GENE TUNNEY

(Written for The Associated Press)
New York, June 15 —(AP)—Max Baer fought exactly the type of fight calculated to whip Primo Carnera and he demonstrated conclusively what I have felt and said right along—that the Italian has a vulnerable chin and extremely limited fighting equipment.

After Carnera's bout with Tommy Loughran, I said Primo would be a mark for a man who could show anything like an effective punch. The Italian himself cannot hit and he is bewildered as soon as his defense starts to break down. His confidence was shattered in the first minute of last night's fight and it was simply a question of how long it would last. At the finish he was obviously ready to quit and did so.

I was not surprised Baer failed to finish Carnera in either of the first two rounds. The big fellow has amazing stamina and showed he is really game under fire, although he used very bad judgment in not taking longer counts when he was down three times in the first round. A fighter is entitled to all the count he can get under such circumstances and it was ruinous for Primo to leap up at once and stumble into another succession of hard blows.

I would say on the whole that Baer fought a perfect fight, showing rare confidence at all times and proving himself a terrific hitter. He did not waste time and energy trying to box Carnera.

Two Speedy Games
Played at Airport
Diamond Last Night

In just two hours and three minutes both scheduled City League soft ball games were played at the airport diamond last evening: De-montown beating the DeMolays 8 to 0, only 24 of the latter going to bat in the seven innings and sixteen of them striking out. Then Knack and Reynolds Wire Co. teams took the field, the wiremakers winning 1 to 0.

Answers to Previous Questions
VANCEY was navigator, Alexander was pilot and Bouck was radio operator of the Stinson monoplane Pilot, which they flew to Bermuda. The famous No. 999, called the Empire State Express, was clocked on May 10, 1893, at a speed of 112.5 miles an hour. Leisler led an insurrection against Governor Nicholson of New York "for the preservation of the Protestant religion" and on behalf of William and Mary. His conviction was generally considered unfair.

GERMANY GREAT SLAVE COLONY, SAYS REPORTER

Exiled American Newspaper Man Hits at Hitlerism

Baltimore, June 15—(AP)—Germany was described today by S. Miles Bouton, exiled journalist, as "a great slave colony, governed by such an aggregation of, in part, honest fanatics, in part, ignorant, stupid and brutal men, as never before controlled the destinies of a great nation."

His analysis of the political condition of Germany was published today in the Baltimore Sun, for which he was a special correspondent in Berlin for 13 years. He is a native of the United States but has lived abroad for the last 23 years. Bouton landed here yesterday, having "left Germany at the urgent request of the Nazi government." He said the foreign office for me to report this and that thing, especially an article describing Germany's economical plight.

Opinions A Crime
"I have left a country," he wrote, "where it is a crime to express—or even to hold, if they are discovered—opinions differing from those dictated by the men in power—a country in which x x x with all the opposition is to be crushed with the most brutal and ruthless measures."

Bouton asserted that despite all Hitler's protestations to the contrary, Nazi Germany is inescapably destined for war. He said it probably is not in the immediate future but he felt that five years of peace are the extreme limit.

Hitler rode to power on a wave of enthusiasm unparalleled in modern times," he said. "But now there is a tremendous undercurrent of dissatisfaction in Germany, especially among the upper middle and lower classes. If Germany knew where to turn if Hitler could be shown of power, his reign of bigotry and terror would be ended."

CALLS ALL-BRAN NATIONAL NATURAL LAXATIVE

Delicious Cereal Checked His Constipation

Here is an unsolicited letter from Mr. Daniels:

"For many years I have been habitually constipated, and have used all sorts of laxatives. So, in fairness to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, I heartily claim it to be a most wonderful remedy for constipation."

"Need I tell you that I have long since ceased using laxatives? Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the National Natural Laxative. If it were used by every family in the United States for breakfast, we would have a much healthier race of people."—Mr. John Daniels, 1090 Third St., North Bergen, N. J.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN furnishes "bulk" to exercise the intestines and vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. Isn't this food much pleasanter than risking pills and drugs? Two table-spoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Dry Law Convicts Must Serve Terms U. S. Judge Holds

Topeka, Kan., June 15 — (AP) — Dry law violators sentenced before the repeal of prohibition must serve their terms, Federal District Judge John C. Pollock holds.

Judge Pollock officially denied application for writs of habeas corpus sought by Frank Ziot, Jasper Blanda and Vincent Salvo, serving terms at the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth on liquor law violation in Illinois. The prisoners contended that repeal had nullified their sentences.

Rockford Youth's World Tour Ended In Cook Co. Court

Chicago, June 15—(AP)—Two Rockford, Ill., boys who had but recently been graduated from high school Thursday wound up a projected tour of the wild west in a court and the custody of their fathers in the order named.

The boys were John Green, 18, and Arthur Pullerton, 17, son of a physician.

Late Wednesday special police of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad arrested them as they attempted to board a freight train in the yards.

The Pullerton boy was carrying a pistol which he told the judge was to be used "to shoot wild game for us to eat."

Charges of disorderly conduct were dropped and the boys were turned over to their fathers, who were in court.

Originator of New Typhoid Medicine Given Gold Medal

Cleveland, June 15 — (AP)—The gold medal of the American Medical Association goes this year to a new medicine for typhoid fever, announced here for the first time.

Even more important than the medicine, in the opinion of the awarding committee, is the method which produced it. For this process holds promise of finding new remedies for others of man's most troublesome infectious diseases.

The award was made in the scientific exhibit to Gregory Schwartzman, M. D., of Mt. Sinai hospital, New York City. He originated the process which produced the typhoid medicine, an antitoxin serum. This process unravels some of the "complications" which are the despair of the physician.

ON SHURTLEFF BOARD

MAX BAER IS NEW CHAMP OF THE HEAVIES of Giant Carnera Last Was Complete Master Night in Bowl

By ALAN GOULD

(Associated Press Sports Editor)

New York, June 15.—(AP)—Reverberating today from the smashing savagery of the most spectacular battle of big men in nearly eleven years of ring history, the fight world acclaimed a new heavyweight champion of the world—Max Adelbert Baer of California, a curly-haired wolf of a man who combines a contemptuous grin and the stage mannerisms of a movie actor with a killing right hand punch.

With magnificent gestures, absolute disdain for anything his giant foe could do and a sporadic but vicious onslaught, Baer stopped the huge but helpless Primo Carnera in the eleventh round of a fifteen round match before a roaring crowd of 52,000 in Madison Square Garden's Long Island bowl, thereby ending the Italian's one-year rule at the top of the heavyweight heap and bringing the crown back to the United States.

Down Eleven Times
Carnera was knocked down no less than eleven times from the force of Baer's smashing blows before Referee Arthur Donovan stopped the one-sided affair, with only 44 seconds to go in the eleventh round, and awarded the verdict to the broad-shouldered, 25-year-old American on a technical knockout.

The giant, 263-pound Italian was still on his feet at the finish, after bravely trying to continue against odds that he knew were overwhelming against him, but he was a bloody, reeling wreck of a fighting man and he was muttering "foul-foul" in utter helplessness when the referee decided to stop the slaughter.

Carnera was knocked down three times within the first minute of fighting as Baer loosed a succession of long, dynamite-laden right hands to the head, followed by bruising lefts to the body. The Italian was down three times again in the second round, with Baer rolling on top of him as they fought in the wildest kind of a melee. For the seventh time in three rounds, the giant flopped to his haunches in the third, still too bewildered to take anything like a count and recover his wits. He rallied bravely for the next few rounds but in the eighth he sprawled full-length to the floor from the force of an ineffectual lunge.

Changed His Mind
Only the bell saved Primo from a knockout in the tenth round, at one stage of which Donovan stepped between them and changed his mind after giving every indication of his intention to stop the fight. Twice in this round and twice more, in the eleventh, the toppling tower of Italy went down under crushing blows.

Absolutely dazed, his face was a blotchy red from the terrific pounding he had received and his features distorted in grotesque bewilderment, Carnera was led stumbling from the ring after the most severe beating any heavyweight champion had absorbed since Jack Dempsey pounded Jess Willard into a bloody pulp in three rounds at Toledo in 1919.

History repeated itself in this respect as the 210 pound Baer, spotting his giant foe more than 50 pounds, proved that a devastating punch can wipe out any and all physical barriers or handicaps, and Dempsey, the old "man mauler" was one of the first to rush in the ring to slap the broad back of his California protégé.

Bone-Crushing Punch
For the thrills of savage conflict and the bellowing roar of the crowd for the "kill" Baer's stunning victory surpasses anything that has happened among heavyweights since Dempsey knocked out Luis Angel Firpo of the Argentine in two spectacular rounds at the Polo Grounds in 1923. For two rounds last night there was more blistering action than a whole carload of heavyweight bouts have produced in the last half-dozen years and the crowd accorded an ovation to the handsome, carelessly confident youth who has given pugilism another bone-crushing puncher to get excited about.

The Californian's lopsided mastery of the giant who stalked through the heavyweight ranks, his powers still something of a mystery until they were left scattered all over the premises last night, furnished the climax to one of the most extraordinary of all heavyweight title matches. Declared unfit to fight by one of New York's boxing commissioners, Bill Brown, only a week ago, Baer not only enjoyed the last big laugh but convincingly demonstrated that the "wise money" knew where it was going when a belated flood of wagers sent the challenger into the ring a 5 to 6 shot to capture the championship.

Relaxed Attack
Only Carnera's kameness, under the heaviest fire of his career, together with Baer's tactics in stalking his big opponent until such times as he chose to turn loose his belting fury, kept the fight from ending in short order. Whether because he was somewhat arm-weary from his opening three-round assault or because he decided to take his time and give the crowd a run for its money as he strutted his fanciest stuff, Baer relaxed his attack for the better part of the next four rounds.

There was never much question about the outcome after the first few slashing right hands, bowled Carnera off his feet. Although the big man continually did nearly all the leading, while Baer backed slowly away or sidestepped with the ease of a dancer, there was no time when Primo's stiff left jabs or faltering right hand uppercuts caused Baer to do anything but make a derisive face.

Grinned and Glared
Max alternately grinned and glared, stuck out his tongue in boyish contempt and twitted his giant rival. He flicked off Carnera's jabs like a man swatting harmless flies. He did everything but the tango as he circled or slipped away from the Italian. Once, when his footing seemed slippery, Max deliberately went over to Carnera's corner and busily scraped his shoes in the resin before resuming the fight.

Carnera at none of the stages when he was being most severely battered took the advantage of a long count. Only four times out of the eleven occasions when he recoiled and hit the floor from Baer's punches did the time-keeper even have time to swing his mallet. There was a count of two for the first knockdown, another for only one second in the third and two short counts, lasting two and four seconds, in the tenth round. The bell at the end of the tenth interrupted the four-second knockdown, which might have been the last if there had been enough time to count the giant out. He was clearly at the end of his rope in this session, which found even the referee confused as to just what he intended to do while Primo stood helpless, blood pouring from his nose and lips, in Baer's corner.

Fell from Weakness
Carnera's two trips to the floor in the eleventh and final round were more from his own weakness and unsteadiness than from any greater force in Baer's lunges or punches. He sprawled once along the ropes after being slugged with a right hander and he went down in the middle of the ring soon afterwards from a half push and half punch.

Altogether, it was one of the most amazing performances ever witnessed in a championship bout, alternately comic with Baer's clowning and tragic for the reeling giant who was trying to ward off the inevitable with the last vestiges of his physical equipment. All that Carnera had left was his bulk and it was slowly being beaten into insensibility at the finish.

The Associated Press score-sheet of the fight gave Baer only six of the eleven rounds, with four going to Carnera and one rated even but even this did not mean much on the basis of what happened in the ring whenever the challenger started blasting operations. Max won the first three rounds, the fifth and the last two, along with the fight, by so wide a margin that it left no room for argument. Carnera was given the 4th, 7th and 8th on points, as he took the aggressive and jabbed his derisive opponent.

Baer Hit Low
The 8th was officially credited to Carnera by the referee's action in penalizing Baer for hitting low with a left hook to the body, although Carnera absorbed terrific punishment and furnished a comic touch by sprawling headlong to the floor like a ball player sliding into home plate, as he lunged for his side-stepping foe. The sixth round was called even.

After the fight, Carnera exhibited a swollen right ankle, which he sprained in one of his tumbles to the canvas in the first round and which his handlers declared slowed him up as the fight progressed. He had a swelling on the left side of his face where most of Baer's vicious right handers connected. His nose and mouth were cut and bruised and his body blotchy red from the thudding effects of Baer's blows.

The gross gate receipts of $438,302.80 marked the biggest "gate" since the first Sharkey-Schmeling fight in 1930 and marked another big upturn for the fight industry, with a new champion ready to seek fresh social and theatrical conquests as well as greater fistic laurels.

HOOKING WITH YOUR IRON?

CHECK CLUBHEAD AT TOP OF SWING

When hooking with irons, check up on the clubhead at the top of the swing. If it is closed you have found the fault.

To eliminate the hook turn the left hand toward the left as it is placed on the shaft. This will bring the clubhead to its proper position, open at the top of the swing.

At times this can be overdone and the clubhead will be too open at the top of the swing. The ball then will have a tendency to fade. Some experts favor a shot of this sort since the slice spin brings the ball to a quick stop.

If the fade is too pronounced the procedure of the hands should be the reverse of that used to correct the hook.

Shaffer Attended Coaching School

Everett D. Shaffer, son of Rev. A. D. Shaffer, has just returned from a coaching school at Evansville College at Evansville, Ind., where he took work in football under Kipke of the Michigan University and basketball under Lambert of Purdue University. He is returning to Stockton as the athletic director of the Community high school for the fourth year.

YALE GRADUATE WITH YANKS IS NEW SENSATION

Johnny Broaca Shut Out Browns With Single Hit Yesterday

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
In three games 23-year-old Johnny Broaca, who took his degree as master of the art of elbowing under Joe Wood at Yale, has become the reigning sensation of the American League.

Only two hours after he joined the Yankees, Broaca started a game and promptly was shelled off the hill. His confidence was unimpaired however, and he came back to pitch and lose a three-hit game against the Athletics and then yesterday turned in a one-hit feat against the Browns that brought him his first major league victory by a 7 to 0 count.

Babe Ruth also had his say when he started off by hitting his tenth homer of the year with two aboard in first. But it was mostly Broaca who led the Yanks back to the best by any Yankee pitcher league lead. The one-hit stunt was the best by any Yankee pitcher this season and ten strikeouts off set the ill effects of six passes. With the Detroit Tigers kept idle by rain at Boston, the triumph sent the Yanks into first place by the margin of four percentage points. The Browns dropped into a fifth-place tie with the Red Sox.

Pitchers Stood Out
The pitchers stood out in yesterday's big league records with few exceptions. Cleveland and the Athletics didn't get much in the hurling line as Indians hammered out an 11 to 7 triumph with the aid of two important homers by Hal Trosky.

In the National League St. Louis and Boston shelled each other's hurling for a total of 34 blows, including three Cardinal homers, a triple and ten doubles. The Cards came out with a 12-9 decision, although they were out 18-16. The Cubs also took the home run route to victory in a free-swinging contest, beating the Phillies 6-4 as circuit swifter Gus Klein, Don Hurst and Babe Herman produced all the Chicago runs. Klein's homer was his 16th of the season.

Three Fine Performances
But Hal Schumacher turned in a four-hit game, beating the Reds 3 to 0 to keep the Giants on top of the National; Monte Weaver of Washington granted the same number of blows in defeating the White Sox 5 to 1 and Brooklyn's Van Mungo granted the Pirates only five hits in ten innings and won out 3 to 0.

Schumacher's triumph was his tenth over Cincinnati, without a loss in his major league career. He never was in trouble, although the Giants had some difficulty prying runs away from Binnie Prey. The victory kept the Giants 2½ games ahead of the Cardinals and three up on Chicago.

That's probably why you hear the constantly rising chorus at all the better bars: "Make mine Drewrys Ale!"

Three-day-old firewater, blended (with what?) at thirty, forty, or fifty cents a throw, doesn't sound so exciting—at least, after the first two or three "throws".

For Drewrys has all the alcohol strength of a highball or cocktail. You get a whole twelve-ounce bottle of rich, full-bodied, mellow ale for less than the price of a highball.

Say it next time the drinks are ordered: "Make mine Drewrys Ale."

SAD STORY WAS BROADCAST OVER SHORT WAVE TOO

Italians, South and Central Americans Heard Fight Tale

New York, June 15.—(AP)—Primo Carnera's home folks heard the sad, sad story in their own tongue last night.

Guilio Rollini, Italian newspaperman, told it to them over the radio in Italian as liquid as his own name—liquid, that is, until Carnera's great bulk crashed to the canvas under Max Baer's horrible battering, when the announcer's speech turned to crackling, sputtering fury.

Over another NBC short wave hook-up, Julio Garzon, managing editor of the New York newspaper La Prensa, was describing the details for millions of Spanish-speaking listeners in Spain, Central and South America.

Busy talking international politics in Venice with Adolf Hitler, Premier Benito Mussolini yet found time yesterday to wire his huge countryman an encouraging "you know you must win."

If it Duce was up and about early enough to tune in his radio at Lido—the curtain fell on this great Italian tragedy somewhere around 3:50 A. M. Rome time—he found no cause for rejoicing in the news the other brought him. An idol had fallen, and the world's heavyweight title, held for the first time in modern fight history by an Italian, had gone back to the United States.
